

Campbell Hausfeld Launches Powered Painter and Powered Stainer for Affordable, Efficient Coverage

Drippy paintbrushes, take a back seat to the new easy-to-use, easy-on-the-pocketbook applicators on the shelves - Campbell Hausfeld's new Powered Stainer and Powered Painter.

Recognized for contractor and high-end do-it-yourself brands such as Easy Spray™ (HVLP) high-volume, low pressure sprayers and One Touch airless sprayers, Campbell Hausfeld now expands its product line to provide a premium-quality painting option to the general consumer who may not have the budget or the desire to invest in expensive technology.

"Based on retailer feedback, we realized there was a real need for a durable entry-level cup gun that delivers consistent, mess-free paint coverage," said Pam Melton, Product Manager for Campbell Hausfeld Paint Systems. "Our objective is to manufacture a cup gun with superior user benefits and maintain a competitive price."

Campbell Hausfeld will initially offer an 1800 PSI stainer and a 2000 PSI painter. Both models feature:

- Easy-grip base for stable tightening or loosening of canister
- Balanced spray tip and motor to provide better spray pattern consistency
- A powerful, lightweight motor to increase manageability while reducing arm fatigue
- Pistons appropriate for the intended coatings (stainless for the stainer, carbide for the painter)
- Wide-mouth one-quart paint canister to allow for easy pouring and cleaning. Canister also is tapered to keep paint pooled at the bottom to use every ounce of the coating

Campbell Hausfeld's initial market tests revealed participants chose the Powered Painter and Powered Stainer over competing models three to one, ranking them first for lightest gun, quietest operation and best spray pattern.

Suggested retail price is $59 - $99. The Powered Painter and Powered Stainer are available at local home centers nationwide. For purchasing information, consumers may visit www.chpower.com or call 1-88-CHPOWER (1-888-247-6937).
